Professional Summary

I am an accounting and finance graduate moving into data analytics, with hands-on experience in reporting, reconciliations, data entry and financial record-keeping. I enjoy working with data to spot patterns, check accuracy and turn information into clear insights. Through my finance roles and data analytics bootcamp, I have built strong skills in Excel, Power BI and SQL, with growing experience in Python. I am now looking for an entry-level data analytics role where I can use my analytical mindset, attention to detail and business understanding to support better decisions.

Key Skills

- Excel - Using formulas, functions, lookups, pivot tables, and charts to clean, organise and present data
- Power BI - Utilising data visualisation and storytelling to present insights to technical and non-technical stakeholders
- Programming - Created practice programs in Python using systematic approaches
- SQL - Querying data, filtering, sorting and grouping data, subqueries, joins, cleansing data
- Teamwork - Collaborated effectively with colleagues by defining responsibilities, supporting peers, asking for help when needed and contributing to project delivery
- Data Handling - Maintaining accurate records, reconciling information, and ensuring data integrity across systems
- Customer Service - Communicating clearly with clients and colleagues, adapting style to suit different audiences
